You like to travel and don't fear irregular work schedules? You are an organizational talent and like to carry out during the summer season what you have planned during the winter? You are interested in meeting different cultures and exploring new countries?

Why then not joining the GBI team? The Global Biking Initiative (GBI) is a fast-growing, worldwide cycling community. Built around an annual charity ride, where several hundred riders from more than thirty countries are cycling during the course of one week through different countries in Europe for the good cause, more and more smaller rides for individuals, corporates and public organizations everywhere in the world take place.

What your main responsibilities will be:

- planning and organizing cycling tours in Europe incl. track evaluation, hotel bookings and participant care
- work closely together with participant care, marketing and finance roles
- accompany cycling tours (4-5 day, 20-40 participants; luggage transport, pick-up service, nutrition provision, hotel co-ordination, airport shuttle co-ordination)

What we expect from you:

- highly proficient in spoken and written English and German
- International driving license (valid for European Union)
- Open minded, reliable and punctual
- Organisational talent
- Interested in different cultures and countries
- Travel affine
- Highly independently working style
